IF the usual fashion runway show leaves you more confused than inspired, there's one in Hawthorn that puts the latest fashions into real life.

Style Review is presented by personal stylist and fashion industry veteran Cindy Newstead and is a runway show for regular women, modelled by regular women.

Ms Newstead said the idea was to present inspiring looks that were achievable and could be worked into a contemporary woman's lifestyle.

She works with clothes that can be found at most shopping centres and draws on the new season's colours and silhouettes to breathe life into a working wardrobe.

She uses petite, athletic, curvy and plus-size models on the runway.

Style Review will be held on Monday, April 23, at Leonda by the Yarra, 2 Wallen Rd, Hawthorn. Cost $65. Details: cinz.com.au/style-review/style-review
